

Kyle Daquanna
Director of Strategic Partnerships at Empathy

As an industry expert for Wellness, Total Rewards, Benefit leaders and Consultants, Kyle has spent the last decade working with innovative benefit and wellness leaders, designing benefit plans & equitable strategies for global companies. After spending the last 3 years in the Caregiving space, Kyle realized that loss and bereavement was a gap in the current Employer benefit offering that could no longer be ignored.

As the Director of Strategic Partnership at Empathy, Kyle works with partners including Health Plans, TPAs, Navigation companies and large employers to simplify the way that innovative employers can better support their people.

Kyle holds a degree in Business & Economics with a minor in Finance from Eckerd College in St. Petersburg FL. He currently resides in Florida with his two sons Adam and Kai. The Daquanna family loves outdoors, fishing, paddle-boarding and camping!
