

Nan Ives and Lisa Stornaielo are the co-founders of The Future of You. This innovative, research-based organization is revolutionizing how individuals prepare for life beyond work, reshaping the landscape of retirement planning.

Driven by a mission to redefine conventional perspectives on life post-career, Nan and Lisa relied on their collective expertise in design thinking, leadership development, transition planning, and career coaching to develop the Future in Four Step method, which empowers individuals to reimagine their retirement journey.

Their award-winning FUTURE YEARS accelerator gives experience-rich, legacy employees complete satisfaction and security, turning them into invaluable assets in their final years of service.